OVERVIEW

Ingeus, a global human services company dedicated to enabling better lives through government-partnered programmes, manages sensitive recruitment processes across 11 countries as part of APM Group's 14,000-strong workforce.

Faced with lengthy screening turnaround times and strict compliance requirements due to their work with vulnerable populations, Ingeus implemented Verifile's integrated screening solution to streamline their verification procedures and maintain rigorous standards.

We spoke to Juliet Mortiss, People and Culture Director for Ingeus UK and Europe, to learn how this transformation supported their mission-critical work.

“Moving to Verifile, we very quickly saw an improvement in the turnaround times. If other companies are looking for a provider that will give them peace of mind and truly act as an extension of their people team, I'd recommend Verifile.”

CHALLENGE:

To streamline background screening processes and reduce turnaround times in a high-volume, strictly-regulated sector

As a government contractor often working with vulnerable people, Ingeus is bound by strict BPSS standards. Ingeus faced a critical situation when their previous screening provider abruptly ceased services during a peak recruitment period, leaving Ingeus managing high volumes of candidates. The situation was further complicated by the need to manage regular re-checks for existing employees.

As well as needing a solution they could depend on, Ingeus needed it to be more efficient. The previous process involved manual data entry, resulting in high turnaround times of around 21 days.

SOLUTION:

A comprehensive, integrated screening system.

Verifile swiftly implemented a comprehensive screening solution for Ingeus. Key features included:

API INTEGRATION:

Verifile's system was integrated with Ingeus's applicant tracking system (PageUp) through an API connection, streamlining the process, eliminating manual data entry, reducing errors, and speeding up turnaround times.

BULK UPLOAD TOOL:

This tool enabled the processing of large numbers of checks simultaneously, saving time and reducing the administrative burden on Ingeus's HR team.

USER-FRIENDLY PORTAL:

Enhanced the screening experience for candidates and employees.

ROBUST INTERNATIONAL CHECKING SERVICES:

Addressing a notoriously challenging aspect of background screening for international candidates.
